The content in this handout has been compiled from Compuware, third party software company documentation, and information in the public domain. Organizations having SYS-ED conduct Xpediter training will be required to have a licensed version of the software.

The presentation outline, content, and exercises for this courseware were developed by David Silverberg. It has been reviewed and edited by David Shapiro.

For purposes of consistency, this courseware presents and spells the Compuware software according to the grammatical standards of the American English language: Xpediter. Compuware documentation makes reference to both Xpediter and XPEDITER. TSO Xpediter on-screen dialogs retain the upper case Compuware Corporation usage. Our research and experience with the mainframe software is that IBM and third party software companies make reference to both dataset and data set in the software and its reference manuals. Except for on-screen dialogs, SYS-ED spells dataset as a single word.
