

Team SYS-ED

Subject:	Question on Outlook
Date:	Tue, 23 Mar 1999 18:22:08 -0500
From:	"Chomiak-Salvi, Tania MSX" <chomiakt@state.gov>
To:	"dsilverberg@sysed.com" <dsilverberg@sysed.com>
	"dshapiro@sysed.com" <dshapiro@sysed.com>

I was in the basic computer skills for the US Mission to the UN. There is one question I forgot to ask: when I go to attach a file to my Outlook email messages, the window points me to the My Documents folder. That's not where I store my documents. I can't seem to find a function similar to Word's Options-File Locations to set a default file to open when I select the Attach function.

Interesting, that when I attach one document, the program remembers the folder I selected it from, but only so long as I don't log off. Once I quit and then log back on, the Attach function points to My Documents again.

Thanks for your help!
Tania

Tania Chomiak-Salvi
Advisor - Humanitarian Affairs
U.S. Mission to the United Nations
799 UN Plaza
New York, NY 10017

T: 212-415-4287
F: 212-415-4141
E-mail: chomiakt@state.gov